

our approach to mixology...

Here at Vanilla Rooms, we have an immense passion for quality mixed drinks, our theory is simple: for us is all about Dilution & Balance.

The following cocktail pages are divide it into 7 drinks families, these are:

The Punch, The Milk Punch, The Sling, The Cocktail, The Sour, The Cobbler & The Highball.

These are the families we believe that ruled the world of mixed drinks.
(by Wayne Collins)

The next pages are full of old recipes along with new creations, from the 1800s to today.

We pay our respect to those that started the world of mixed drinks back in the 18th century.

The Professor Jerry Thomas was a bartender that published the first cocktail book; we have included some of his recipes and make them how he would have wanted.

We are here to educate our customers and guide them through the world of mixed drinks, please have a look all of our recipes and take your time to read the cocktail menu.

Our selection of spirits, wines and cocktails are by far the best in Wales, so if you see a bottle or you have any questions about the history of a cocktail, a specific product or about mixed drinks in general feel free to ask.

Martini Story

The way we see it: the Manhattan spawned the Martinez, which sired the Martini, which evolved into the Dry Martini. The evolution of the Martini spins on two points- The style of the Gin and the type of Vermouth used to make it. Three different styles of Gin were available, Genever, a heavy-bodied somewhat sweetish spirit; Old Tom, sweetened London gin; and London Dry Gin.

Martinez

The forerunner of the modern Dry Martini, originally made with a sweet style gin and sweet vermouth along with bitters and garnished with an orange twist.

The Cobbler Family

The Cobbler was one of the most important and popular drinks during the 1800s. It is based on a spirit of any kind, wine, liqueurs and fruits. The name possibly comes from the word "cobble" the small ice cubes of which the drink is served.

Cobbler £7.00

The Cobbler first appeared in Jerry Thomas's 1862 guide. The original recipe called for sherry but we have replaced that with white wine and added Liquor 43 along with lemon and orange wedges and a dash of sugar

You can tailor make your Cobbler by replacing the Liquor 43 with: Poire William, Cassis, Cherry, Raspberry or just ask your bartender.

Blood Orange Sangria £7.50
